Stewardship: A Practical Spirituality

The message of stewardship resonates in our hearts, for it is a practical spirituality, a way of holiness.

Spirituality is a bit hard to define, so I would like to illustrate the meaning through a story:

There once were two fish that lived in a small pond. The older fish spent his days swimming serenely, while the younger fish darted around, peeking under fallen branches and behind rocks. Finally, the older fish asked, "What are you doing? I'm getting tired just looking at you." The younger one explained, "I'm looking for water! I've heard that it's really good for us fish. We can't live without it." The older fish retorted, "You dummy! You're swimming in it. Above you, below you, around you – it's all over." And the younger fish said, "You mean this water that's supposed to be so good for us is just right here? It can't be that simple." And he swam away, continuing his search for water.

The question for us is: Where do we look for God? Are we looking here and there but not everywhere? Do we recognize God in His creation? Do we recognize God in history? Do we recognize God in this age of the Holy Spirit? Do we recognize God where He can be found?

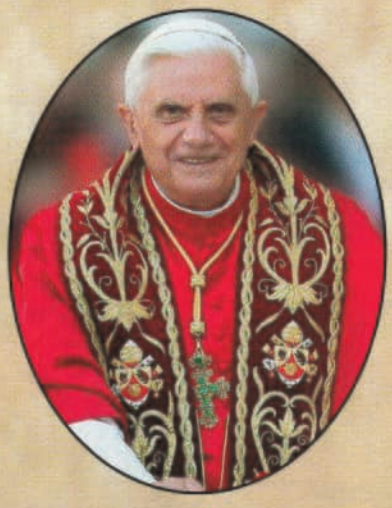

Stewardship is an invitation for us to recognize God in our lives: in our families, in our work, in our associations with the Church, in our reception of the sacraments, in the work we do for the building up of the Kingdom of God!

And as we recognize the presence of God in our lives, we set out to live the spirituality of stewardship in terms of time, talent and treasure.

May God help us be the stewards He calls us to be... Fr. Steve

St. Michael the Archangel,

Be our defense against

of the Devil.
May God rebuke him,
we humbly pray,
and do thou,
O Prince of the heavenly hosts,
by the power of God,
thrust into hell Satan,
and all the evil spirits,
who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.
